FINANCE CHARGES: Although the Bank uses the Daily Balance method to calculate the finance charge on your Moneyline/Overdraft Protection account (the term "ODP" or "OD" refers to Overdraft Protection), the Bank discloses the Average Daily Balance on the periodic statement as an easier method for you to calculate the finance charge. The finance charge begins to accrue on the date advances and other debits are posted to your account and will continue until the balance has been paid in full. To compute the finance charge, multiply the Average Daily Balance times the Days in Period times the Daily Periodic Rate (as listed in the Account Summary section on the front of the statement). The Average Daily Balance is calculated by adding the balance for each day of the billing cycle, then dividing the total balance by the number of Days in the Billing Cycle. The daily balance is the balance for the day after advances have been added and payments or credits have been subtracted plus or minus any other adjustments that might have occurred that day. There is no grace period during which no finance charge accrues. Finance charge adjustments are included in your total finance charge.

Important Information About Your TD Convenience Checking Account

We regularly review our product offerings and make adjustments as necessary. Today, we're writing to let you know about an important upcoming change that will affect your TD Convenience Checking account.

On January 4, 2026, the minimum daily balance required to waive the monthly maintenance fee on your TD Convenience Checking account will increase from $100 to $250. The monthly maintenance fee on your Convenience Checking will remain at $15. This means that beginning January 4, 2026 and each month thereafter, you must maintain a minimum daily balance of at least $250 in your Convenience Checking account to avoid a $15 monthly maintenance fee.¹

Important: We have other checking accounts available that offer either lower monthly maintenance fees or other ways to waive such fees with qualifying activities. One of these other checking accounts may better suit you or result in less fees, depending on your needs, preferences and circumstances. Please see below for more information about these available products or visit td.com/checking to learn more.

If you would like to discuss your options for avoiding monthly maintenance fees, call us 24/7 at 1-866-710-7440, send us a secure message or book an appointment at a TD Bank near you.

¹However, the monthly maintenance fee is waived if the Primary account holder is age 17 through 23 years of age. Upon the primary account holder's 24th birthday, the account is subject to the monthly maintenance fee unless the minimum daily balance is maintained.

²You must inform us of which TD Bank products you want to designate to be linked to meet any combined balance requirements. We do not link accounts for you. When linked, all balances are reviewed daily to determine eligibility. When an existing linked TD Bank product is closed and a new TD Bank product is opened to replace the existing one, TD does not automatically link accounts on your behalf.

³Combined balances to waive the monthly maintenance fee for TD Beyond Checking Accounts include aggregate balance across a customer's personal deposit accounts, all outstanding home equity loan and home equity line of credit accounts, and/or mortgages that you choose to link.

⁴Overdraft Services do not apply to TD Essential Banking Accounts. We may decline or return transactions that would result in an overdraft. Transactions that you make may cause your account to overdraw but we will not assess your TD Essential Banking account an overdraft fee. For example, preauthorized transactions and other transactions may post to your Account even when the balance in your account is not sufficient to pay the transaction.

⁵Upon the primary account holder's 18th birthday, the account will be subject to the monthly maintenance fee.
